Grief Group

Lexington High School counseling department would like to offer our students an opportunity to participate in a Grief Group. If you have experienced the loss of a loved one, we would love to help you with your grieving process. Sometimes it helps to be with others who have suffered a loss of a loved one. Our goal for this group is to learn about the process of grieving and the unfamiliar emotions associated with grief. If you would like to know more, please contact Ms. Hill at jhill2@lexington1.net

ATTENTION Rising Juniors and Seniors: Would you like to be a UNIFIED CHAMPION? Applications are being accepted for 2017-18 PE2/Unified Champions (aka Project Unify). This course is a training program for Special Olympics. Unified Champion "Partners" work with the athletes in preparation for Special Olympics competitions. Partners are required to actively participate daily with the athletes, be a member of the Be a Fan Club, and attend off-campus athletic events. Applications can be picked up from Counseling and Advisement Office, Mrs. Crowley (M103), Coach Spires, or Coach Gettys. Please return applications, essays, and teacher recommendations to Mrs. Crowley.

Attention Juniors!

Did you know that there are TEN colleges in South Carolina that offer Junior Scholars programs? What are Junior Scholar Programs? This is a recruiting tool used by colleges and universities to recruit the brightest and best students to their campuses! How does it pay off for you? Juniors who are named "Junior Scholars" will have the added benefit of additional scholarship opportunities at these colleges. Some colleges issue application fee waivers to Junior Scholars. Scholars are invited to "Scholars Days" on these campuses for fantastic tours/open houses and special recognitions by the colleges.

Criteria for Junior Scholars programs are set by each college. If you are interested in being nominated as Junior Scholar, please open this link to see which colleges offer these programs, and what the criteria are for each college.

Then you will need to come to the Counseling office to pick up a nomination form for each of the participating colleges in which you have interest. The deadline is Tuesday, February 28 to return your nomination form.
