Rising SENIOR?

Consider Emerging Public Leaders at Furman University!

- Furman's Emerging Public Leaders is a FREE leadership and civic engagement program for junior students sponsored by the Richard W. Riley Institute of Government, Politics, and Public Leadership.
- This week-long summer program (June 18 – 23, 2017) offers a series of experiences that enable students to develop into civic-minded and engaged leaders in their communities.
- During the week, participants attend workshops at Furman that prepare them to plan and implement a service project addressing a specific need within their own communities. Students will then return to campus in the spring to present the results of their projects to their peers and a panel of judges. Additional project funds are awarded to the winner.

"Participating in EPL was one of the best decisions I made in high school. I truly think that I have a better understanding of what it means to start and run a service organization, and I hope that the project I started will continue to help students in the future. Effective leadership can mobilize people to make the world a much better place, and I plan to utilize it as much as I can." Lucas Paquette, Class of 2015, Johnsonville High School
