Hola

Attention Immersion Sophomores and Juniors!

If you are a sophomore or junior currently in the high school immersion program, you may qualify to participate in dual enrollment coursework in Spanish or French on the USC Campus during the 2018-2019 school year.

After several years of discussion, the University of South Carolina has gained approval to proceed with this innovative partnership. Plans for a pilot immersion Spanish course for fall 2018 are underway for our Lexington One students, with additional Spanish and French offerings available for the spring 2019 semester on the Columbia campus. Enrollment requests must meet university requirements to guarantee a course offering.

Why? Dual enrollment offerings will provide immersion students with an advanced university experience while earning both college and high school credits.

Who? Current sophomores and juniors in Lexington One immersion who meet admissions requirements (see school counselor)

Where? USC Columbia Campus

When? Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays
8:00–11:00 a.m. (travel time built in to student schedule)

Transportation? Provided by Lexington One Transportation Office

Cost? Students will pay the application fee for non-degree seeking students ($25). The school district will assume the remainder of fees, including tuition and textbooks.

Interested students should notify counselors during 2017-2018 IGP conferences. More information will be shared after enrollment requests have been received.
