The Retro Gaming Club meeting scheduled for Thursday has been cancelled.

The Lexington High School Debate Team will be selling Chick-fil-A biscuits for $3 Friday, November 10. Please come by and buy a biscuit to support your Debate Team at the main entrance of the school.

Juniors:

Lexington Main Library has a year-long internship available (including summers) starting in January and ending in December. It is after school and is a paid internship. If you have an interest please see the Career Specialist. The deadline has been extended due to no applicants.

REMINDER!! All spring internship applications are due by November 30. Please see Mr. Magyar or Mrs. Augsburger in room E-202 and E-203 if you need an application or assistance.

We cordially invite you to join us in LHS's Little Theater as we discuss the AP World History course and its requirements. We'll provide an overview of the course content, expectations and present information on the format of the AP exam. It's a great chance to meet us and ask general questions about the class. We request that there be only one parent/guardian per student due to space constraints in the theater.

To assist students in preparing for the course, we will present and hand out a pre-term assignment. In addition, students are able to pick up their textbook (with ID) this evening.

Note: If a parent or student is not able to attend the program, the student should see Ms. Wayt or Ms. Capers after November 14 (but before winter break) to pick up the pre-term assignment. They should then see Dr. Burgess in the main office during ILT to check out their textbook.

Please RSVP using this link to a Google form by Nov 9, so we know to expect you (or to expect to see the student soon after the event): <https://goo.gl/forms/G56yIpCiCPWO5JfN2>.

We look forward to meeting you and the start to our classes! Ms. Wayt and Ms. Capers
